Maureen Burton received a BA from the University of Missouri at Columbia in 1971 an MA from California State University Fullerton in 1979 and a Ph.D. from the University of California at Riverside in 1986. All were in economics. She taught at Chaffey College from 1984 to 1987 and at Cal Poly Pomona since 1987 where she is a full professor has been Coordinator of the Graduate Program and is currently chair of the Economics Department. In addition to other publications she co-authored an introductory text Economics (Harper Collins 1987) with S. Craig Justice. Her main areas of research include monetary theory and financial markets.

This book is great for those that have no foundation on the financial system. It covers everything from basic ideas and definitions to more complex ideas and systems. It was used as the textbook for one of my college classes, and I enjoyed it. The ideas also helped reinforce concepts I was studying for the CFA Level I exam. Keep in mind it's a lengthy read.

Good book. It arrived earlier than I expected.

Long and dense, but compliments my Money and Banking course very well

Great!
