Ted Tenny is webmaster and secretary of the Arizona Trailblazers Hiking Club and the author of Goldfield Mountain Hikes (Gem Guides Book Co., 2006). He has led hundreds of Arizona hikes and hiked extensively in Arizona and other southwestern states. Ted earned a B.S. in Aeronautics and Astronautics from M.I.T., M.S. in Aeronautics and Astronautics from Stanford, M.S. in Computer Science from Stanford, and Ph.D. in Mathematics and Computer Science from Clarkson University in Potsdam, New York. He lives in Mesa, Arizona with his wife, Jacquelyn.

This is an excellent book. There are 33 hikes, from many parts of the state. The thing that makes this volume better than most trail guides is the attention to detail. Most hiking guides just give general directions to the trail, which often leads you puzzled when you get out there are find side trails, off-trail segments, etc., but Tenny does an terrific job describing every twist and turn in the route. Plus, he includes the topographic map of each hike, with the route marked on it. His use of the maps is a big improvement over the arrangement in his previous book, Goldfield Mountain Hikes. A great guide to introduce you to some of the state's best hikes.

There aren't enough stars to do this fine book justice. We live in Apache Junction and this is the best guide book to the hikes near there that we have found. Detailed maps, photos and verbal details have been invaluable for us in our hikes in this area. Thank You Mr. Tenny!!!

Being an avid hiker, I'm always looking for new sources of information. This is a very good one. Thanks. Michael - Susan's husband...
