Gloria Hoffman Wold, RN, BSN, MS, Nursing Instructor, Milwaukee Area Technical College, Milwaukee, WI --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

I am a caregiver with hospice assist. I got this book hoping it might provide tips of how to handle a bed-ridden, non-compliant, almost immovable 95 yr old patient, and provide answers to some questions visiting nurses don't want to address. While the work offered some insights, it is principally intended for nursing in hospital setting leading to eventual cure (and some form of certification). Unfortunately, it is not the purview of hospice to effect cures. Their focus is entirely palliative care. Therefore, for my particular need I didn't really get much out of this book. Having said that, it is very well written, easy to understand, and otherwise informative. And, yes, while of little use to me, I would recommend it to anyone pursuing the nursing profession.

The book is intact however it is in very poor condition. Each page has highlighting, which is fine, but there is also writing in pen on every other page. The study guides have answers blacked out in pen and hand written notes. The book itself is very torn, bent and has an odor as if it were left outside. Pretty disappointed.

very good information for the NAPNES test

Great basic text. Well organized and charts provide a good summary of various topics. Using as a supplemental text for practical nurse students. Would recommend as primary text for geriatric nursing in the future.

AWESOME

I ordered this book for a college class at the last minute because my school bookstore was sold out. The product was received promptly and in perfect condition. Would definitely recommend this book for anyone in the field of gerontology, even if not specifically in nursing. The book offers information on aging and ways to interact with aging patients/clients that is invaluable information.

Bought for my daughter as she was taking Nursing classes. Don't remember if this book was new or used. We still have the books and I think I'll just take to the local Goodwill Store.

love my nursing book, and the price was awesome!~
